Message from the GSA Executive

Welcome to the Graduate Student Association of the University of New Brunswick! The Graduate Student Association (GSA) is an independent, member-driven organization whose purpose is to serve and further the interests of all graduate students at UNB, whether they are in Fredericton or Saint John. All full-time and part-time graduate students enrolled at UNB are members of the GSA. The GSA is the official voice of graduate students. Elected representatives sit on a variety of university committees to ensure that student concerns are presented, and we work to bring about changes to university policy to improve the academic and social experience of graduate students.

In Fredericton, the Alden Nowlan House (more commonly known as the Grad House, located at 676 Windsor Street) serves as a space for GSA activities/events. The GSA office as well as a meeting room are located upstairs, while on the ground floor you will find the Windsor Castle Bar, and the President's room. The deck out back is a great place to enjoy a sunny afternoon! The house is a venue for events that include literature readings and guest speakers. Additionally many professors have informal meetings with their department's grad students to share ideas, questions and general networking.

In Saint John, you can drop by the GSA Lounge, located in Ganong Hall, room 203. The Lounge boasts couches, a fridge for your lunch, a coffeemaker, a microwave, a printer, as well as a laptop and projector for anyone wanting to practice presentations/defenses.

We hope that your experience at UNB will be a positive one - and becoming involved in the GSA is a great way to enhance that experience! We are always looking for members to act as departmental representatives on the GSA council, to help organize events, or to serve on one of our many committees. To learn more about the GSA visit our website at <http://www.unbgsa.com>

Have a great year!

Graduate Student Association FAQ

What is the purpose of the GSA?

The purpose of the GSA is to:

- a) Act as the official voice of graduate students.
- b) Represent its membership to the administrative and governing bodies of the University of New Brunswick and any other organization.
- c) Promote the unity and well-being of the graduate student body.
- d) Promote and maintain communication among graduate students.
- e) Serve and further the intellectual, educational, cultural, social, and interdisciplinary activities of graduate students.

Who is the GSA?

All graduate students enrolled at UNB are members of the GSA and are entitled to vote for and be elected to a variety of positions. Elected representatives are charged with ensuring that student voices will be heard in academic and non-academic matters that affect us as graduate students. The GSA is a governing body, and while centered in Fredericton, it has a Chapter in Saint John. The GSA has an Executive committee that runs the day to day operation of the GSA overall, under the guidance of the GSA Council. In Saint John, the GSA chapter has an executive that represents the students on that campus, and liaises with the overall GSA.

GSA Executive Committee:

The executive committee on the Fredericton campus oversees day-to-day operations of the GSA. The committee consists of the President and five Vice-Presidents:

Finance, Administration and Communication, Academic, External, and Events and Societies.

Elections are held in October and April to fill vacant positions. The duties and responsibilities for each of these positions can be found on our website in the GSA Bylaws.

GSA Council

The council is composed of elected representatives from Graduate Academic Units (GAUs) on campus, the executive committee and a representative from Saint John campus. It meets on a monthly basis to discuss issues brought forward by GSA committees, council representatives, and the general membership.

Departmental Societies

Societies are entitled to a certain number of seats on GSA Council depending on the number of students in the society. Most societies also have their own executive committees to look after the specific interests of their members and to organize social and academic activities. Contact the GSA to find out who is representing your interests on Council and within your department.

Saint John Chapter Executive

The Saint John Chapter consists of the President and four Vice-Presidents: Internal, External, Finance, and Communications. The SJ executive maintains the GSA Lounge, located in Ganong Hall, room 203, for use by graduate students in Saint John.

Saint John: Contact gsasj@unb.ca

What services does the GSA offer?

ISIC Cards

The International Student Identity Card (ISIC) is an internationally recognized ID (and discount card!) for students and is available free to all full-time graduate students. Drop by the GSA Office at the Grad House to fill in an application form. You may choose to bring a passport sized photo or have your picture taken and printed onsite for $2. Please allow a few days for processing. Not in or near Fredericton? Contact gsa@unb.ca to find out how you can get your ISIC.

Universal Bus Pass Program (Fredericton)

The GSA negotiated an agreement with the City of Fredericton to provide a universal bus pass (u-pass) to all full-time students in Fredericton. For only $140 per year, students get unlimited travel from September to August on Fredericton Transit buses. Visit the GSA Office to get your u-pass sticker for the year (you must present your validated UNB student ID card).

Students registered in Fredericton who do not live in Fredericton may be eligible to opt-out of the program, if they apply by the specified deadline and meet the criteria. Visit the GSA website or contact gsa@unb.ca for more information.

Graduate Student Association Health and Dental Plan

The GSA offers extended health and dental coverage to its full-time members. For more information on both health and dental coverage, visit the studentvip.ca website for details!

Who is eligible for the plan?

All full-time graduate students are automatically enrolled in both the health and the dental plan. Part-time students cannot enrol at this time.

Is the plan mandatory?

The university requires all full-time students to have extended health insurance, therefore the GSA Health Plan is mandatory unless a student provides proof that they possess equivalent coverage elsewhere. The GSA Dental Plan is optional. A student must successfully complete the opt-out process by the specified deadline to be removed from either plan.

How do I opt-out?

During the opt-out period, visit the UNB GSA section of the studentvip.ca website and follow the instructions for completing the opt-out process. You will receive notification when the process has been completed successfully. Please be sure to check that you have opted-out of the correct plan. There are separate opt-out forms for the health plan and the dental plan.

To opt-out of the health plan, you must provide proof of existing, equivalent coverage. The opt-out time period usually lasts only during the first two weeks of fall term. Please contact the GSA during office hours for more information.

Can I add my spouse/family to the plan?

Yes. Spouses and family members may be added by completing a Family Add-On form (available from the GSA offices, or online from www.unbgsa.ca) and payment for additional coverage. The additional cost for adding a spouse or family is posted with other information on the website. Family Add-On forms must be received by the specified deadline.

I already pay for International Student Health Insurance through the university. Is the GSA health plan still mandatory?

Yes. The International Student Health Insurance provided by the university is basic health insurance that is similar to provincial Medicare that covers Canadian citizens and Permanent Residents. The GSA health plan is extended health insurance that covers items, such as prescription drugs, that are NOT covered by the International Student Health Insurance plan. The university requires all full-time students to have extended health insurance. You may opt-out of the GSA health plan if you can provide proof that you possess equivalent coverage. Travel insurance does not qualify.

What is covered under the GSA Health and Dental Plans?

The health plan covers items such as paramedical procedures, medical supplies, some prescription drugs (NB formulary), preventative vaccinations, hearing aid coverage, vision care, and out of country coverage. The dental plan covers items such as x-rays, cleaning and scaling, and oral surgery up to a certain percentage, and subject to an annual maximum. Complete details regarding plan benefits are available by contacting gsa@unb.ca or by visiting the UNB GSA section of the studentvip.ca website.

Always check to ensure you are covered before undertaking any medical/dental procedure or treatment.

How do I claim health and dental expenses?

Prescription drugs and basic dental costs can usually be claimed using your pay direct card at the pharmacy or dentist's office. Other expenses can be claimed by completing a health or dental claim form on-line or by submitting a paper copy by fax or mailing it with receipts to the address listed on the form. Visit the UNB GSA section of the studentvip.ca website for instructions and forms.

Group Policy #: 490015

RWAM ID #: UNB [Student ID #]-00

Is there a black-out period?

The GSA has taken steps to reduce or eliminate the black-out period - that is, the time at the start of the year when new students are covered by the GSA Health and Dental Plan but cannot yet submit claims. Students who have registered and paid or made arrangements to pay fees before September will be on the positive enrolment list at the start of September and will NOT experience a black-out period. Students who register after the end of August will experience a short black-out period.

Where should I go if I have any questions?

The UNB GSA section of the studentvip.ca website is your sources for information related to the health and dental plans, as well as details about all the benefits that go along with being a “Student VIP”. You may also contact the GSA’s Office Administrator, Jeff Mott with questions about the plans. You can reach him at 453-4700 or gsa@unb.ca. Please call or email ahead for an appointment.

Annual Graduate Research Conference

The GSA has been organizing the GRC for several years. The GRC is a conference designed for graduate students by graduate students. It provides an opportunity for students from all different faculties and departments to come together to share their ideas. The mandate of the GRC is to provide a forum for graduate students to present their research in a supportive environment, to gain presentation skills, and to develop links with the greater graduate community.

The conference is open to graduate students affiliated with both the Fredericton and Saint John campuses. The GRC is divided into two streams: Social Sciences and Humanities, and Science and Engineering. This allows students in similar disciplines to share their research, while still providing an opportunity to interact with people outside their department or field. The conference is held in late winter/early spring, with a call for abstracts issued at the beginning of the winter term. Graduate students at all stages of their research are encouraged to submit abstracts for oral or poster presentations. Prizes are awarded to the top presentations in each stream, and there are workshops and keynote presentations on a variety of topics. Participation in the conference is always free for presenters and attendees.

Getting settled in New Brunswick

Tenants – Know your Rights and Responsibilities!

The last thing you need are poor living conditions. In New Brunswick, the Residential Tenancies Act covers the relationship between landlords and tenants.

Below are some tips to make sure you are protected:

- Leases: Landlords and tenants must sign a Standard Form of Lease. Any other lease forms are not acceptable. Even if you did not sign a lease, the rental agreement is still covered by the Residential Tenancies Act. You and your landlord may agree to additional conditions, but may not remove any of the mandatory conditions.
- Security Deposits: The landlord may ask for a security deposit, however, it may not exceed one month's rent. Your security deposit may be paid directly to the Rentalsman, or to the landlord;

the landlord must deliver the amount paid to the Rentalsman within seven days. A certificate is sent to both parties stating the amount received and the address it covers. It is always a good idea to inspect the premises with your landlord before moving in and after moving out, making note of any pre-existing damage.

- Getting Back Your Security Deposit: At the end of the tenancy, the landlord has seven days to make a claim against the deposit. The claim can be made to recover costs such as physical damage, cleaning, or rent left owing. The tenant must ask the Rentalsman in writing to return the security deposit after the lease expires. Forms are available from the Rentalsman. In case of a dispute, the Rentalsman investigates.
- Repairs and Maintenance: The landlord must fix or replace anything the tenant pays rent for that breaks or does not work properly. This applies to appliances that come with the rental and common areas. The tenant must repair anything on the rented premises that the tenant or his or her guests are responsible for wilfully or negligently damaging. Regular cleaning is also the responsibility of the tenant.
- Entry and Privacy: A landlord can normally enter rented premises only after giving advance notice to the tenant or with the tenant's consent. The times of advance notice vary according to the situation. For example, if the landlord intends to carry out repairs, the tenant must have seven days' notice, preferably in writing. For general inspection and to show the premises, the landlord must give 24 hours' notice, preferably in writing. Entry must be between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. and on a day other than Sunday or a holiday. In an emergency the landlord may enter at any time.
- Rent Increases: The landlord must give at least two month's notice of a rent increase in writing to the tenant. In some situations, the notice must be three months. If the tenant chooses to move, they may treat this as a notice of termination, and may give the landlord appropriate written notice that they will be leaving.
- Ending a Lease: Fixed term leases end on their termination date. However, month-to-month or year-to-year leases can be terminated by either the landlord or tenant by providing one-month's written notice. For more information, please see the website below. Always keep records of your dealings with your landlord. ## Fredericton Housing

Fredericton offers a wide variety of living arrangements for incoming students, from university residence to apartment/ condo style living. Rental rates tend to vary depending on proximity to campus, but although even the Northside (across the river from the university) can be considered within walking distance, you need to decide what is a reasonable distance for you to travel and how likely you are to walk versus try to catch the bus versus call a taxi.

On-Campus Housing/University Residence

There are 14 residences on Fredericton campus. Most are traditional style (one or two people per room, shared washroom facilities) but there is also one “suite style” residence and one “family style” residence (Magee House, a popular place to live for international students). ### Off-Campus Housing

Saint John Housing

There are only two residences on Saint John campus and they tend to fill up quickly with undergraduate students so off-campus housing is the better option. First you must consider in what area of Saint John you would like to live. Some apartment complexes are within walking distance (15-20 minute walk) of the university, but may be more expensive than apartments in other parts of the city. Apartments in the Uptown area may be in older, more charming buildings and are closer to the market and other city attractions, but will require car or bus transportation to get to campus. There are also many apartments available on the east and west sides of Saint John, if increased transportation distances are not a large concern.

Apartment rentals and listings of roommate searches are often posted on bulletin boards around the UNBSJ campus – keep your eyes open! Check out the Off-Campus Housing section of the Saint John Student Services site for useful tips and links to other important information regarding renting in Saint John.

Utilities

Be careful to note whether your rent will include heat and/or electricity. Winters in New Brunswick can get cold, and heating bills can add substantially to your expenses in these months. If you are concerned with how much your heating bills may cost, you can contact NB Power (1-800-663-6272) to request average heating costs from the last year. Once you have found a place to live, you may need to set up your utilities. If your heat and/or electricity is not included in your rent, call NB Power to have the power put in your name, or start the process online. A security deposit may be required. For more information and instructions, visit www.nbpower.com.

When it comes to staying connected, you have a number of options. Landline or no landline? Simple mobile phone or SmartPhone? Dial-up, High-Speed, FibreOp, Mobile Internet? Internet through the phone company or cable company? The two major telecommunications companies in New Brunswick are Bell Aliant and Rogers Communications. Both provide mobile phone, home phone, and internet services. Bell Aliant offers satellite, and now also FibreOp, TV; Rogers offers cable TV. Both companies offer their services individually or in “bundles” (often multiyear contracts that can save you money, but may have you subscribed to services you don’t want or need). Bell Aliant

Transportation

Fredericton Transit

If you are a full-time student, registered on Fredericton campus, you are automatically enrolled in the UPass program. Be sure to visit the GSA Office in the Grad House, with your validated student ID, to get your UPass sticker then show your card whenever you get on the bus to ride for free! Part-time students unfortunately are not part of the program.

Transit maps and schedule are available from the Grad House or at www.fredericton.ca/en/transportation/transitschedule.asp

Not sure which route to take or when you need to leave to get to your destination on time? Try the Transit Trip Planner in Google Maps! (Get Directions: By public transit)

Saint John Transit

Cash fares in Saint John are $2.75 per ride. If you expect to be using the bus frequently, you can purchase a Student Transcard, 10 rides for $20 or 20 rides for $40, or a Monthly Student Pass, unlimited rides for $60/month. Transcards and passes can be purchased at the UNBSJ Book Store and at various other locations throughout the city.

Transit maps, schedules, and other information about Saint John Transit is available at www.saintjohntransit.com

Taxi Services

There are a number of taxi companies operating both in Fredericton and Saint John. Most now accept debit and credit cards. Some offer student or VIP discounts, provide delivery services, or can accommodate special needs. Consult the Yellow Pages to see their ads.

It is customary to tip taxi drivers, but it is not expected or required. A good rule of thumb is 10% of the fare for longer rides, $1 or $2 for shorter rides. If the driver has been particularly pleasant and helpful, you may decide to tip more; the reverse is also true.

Driver's Licence and Vehicle Registration

A driver's license can be a good thing to have, whether or not you will have access to a vehicle during your time at UNB, as it is a generally accepted photo ID. You must obtain a New Brunswick driver's license as soon as you take up permanent residence in the province if you intend to drive in New Brunswick. If you have moved to New Brunswick from another Canadian province or from the United States, you may be able to exchange your license from that jurisdiction for a New Brunswick driver's license without having to take a driver's test. If you have moved to New Brunswick from another country, you will likely have to pass a written examination, vision test, and road test.

Passenger vehicles owned by visitors can be operated in New Brunswick for up to six months without being registered in the province. After six months, or earlier if the owner becomes a resident of New Brunswick, the vehicle must be registered.
